Presentation of the mark

While there are no specific requirements regarding size and positioning of the certification mark on the packaging, the size and positioning shall be such that the mark can be easily recognized. The color of the certification mark is red (preferably Pantone 032). If the red color cannot be used, the field is black.

The applicant shall make no modification of the certification mark, whether applied on product labels or in commercial communications. The mark shall only be applied to products which fulfil the set criteria.

The applicant shall submit the layout of new product labels with the certification mark for comment.

Administration fee for certification mark use

The annual fee for the use of the certification mark is 0.06 CHF/kg (net weight of products sold with the Toothfriendly certification mark).
